

Spires, Domes, and other photos from Russia.

You did tend to see spires and domes everywhere.

The Kremlin

The largest gun.

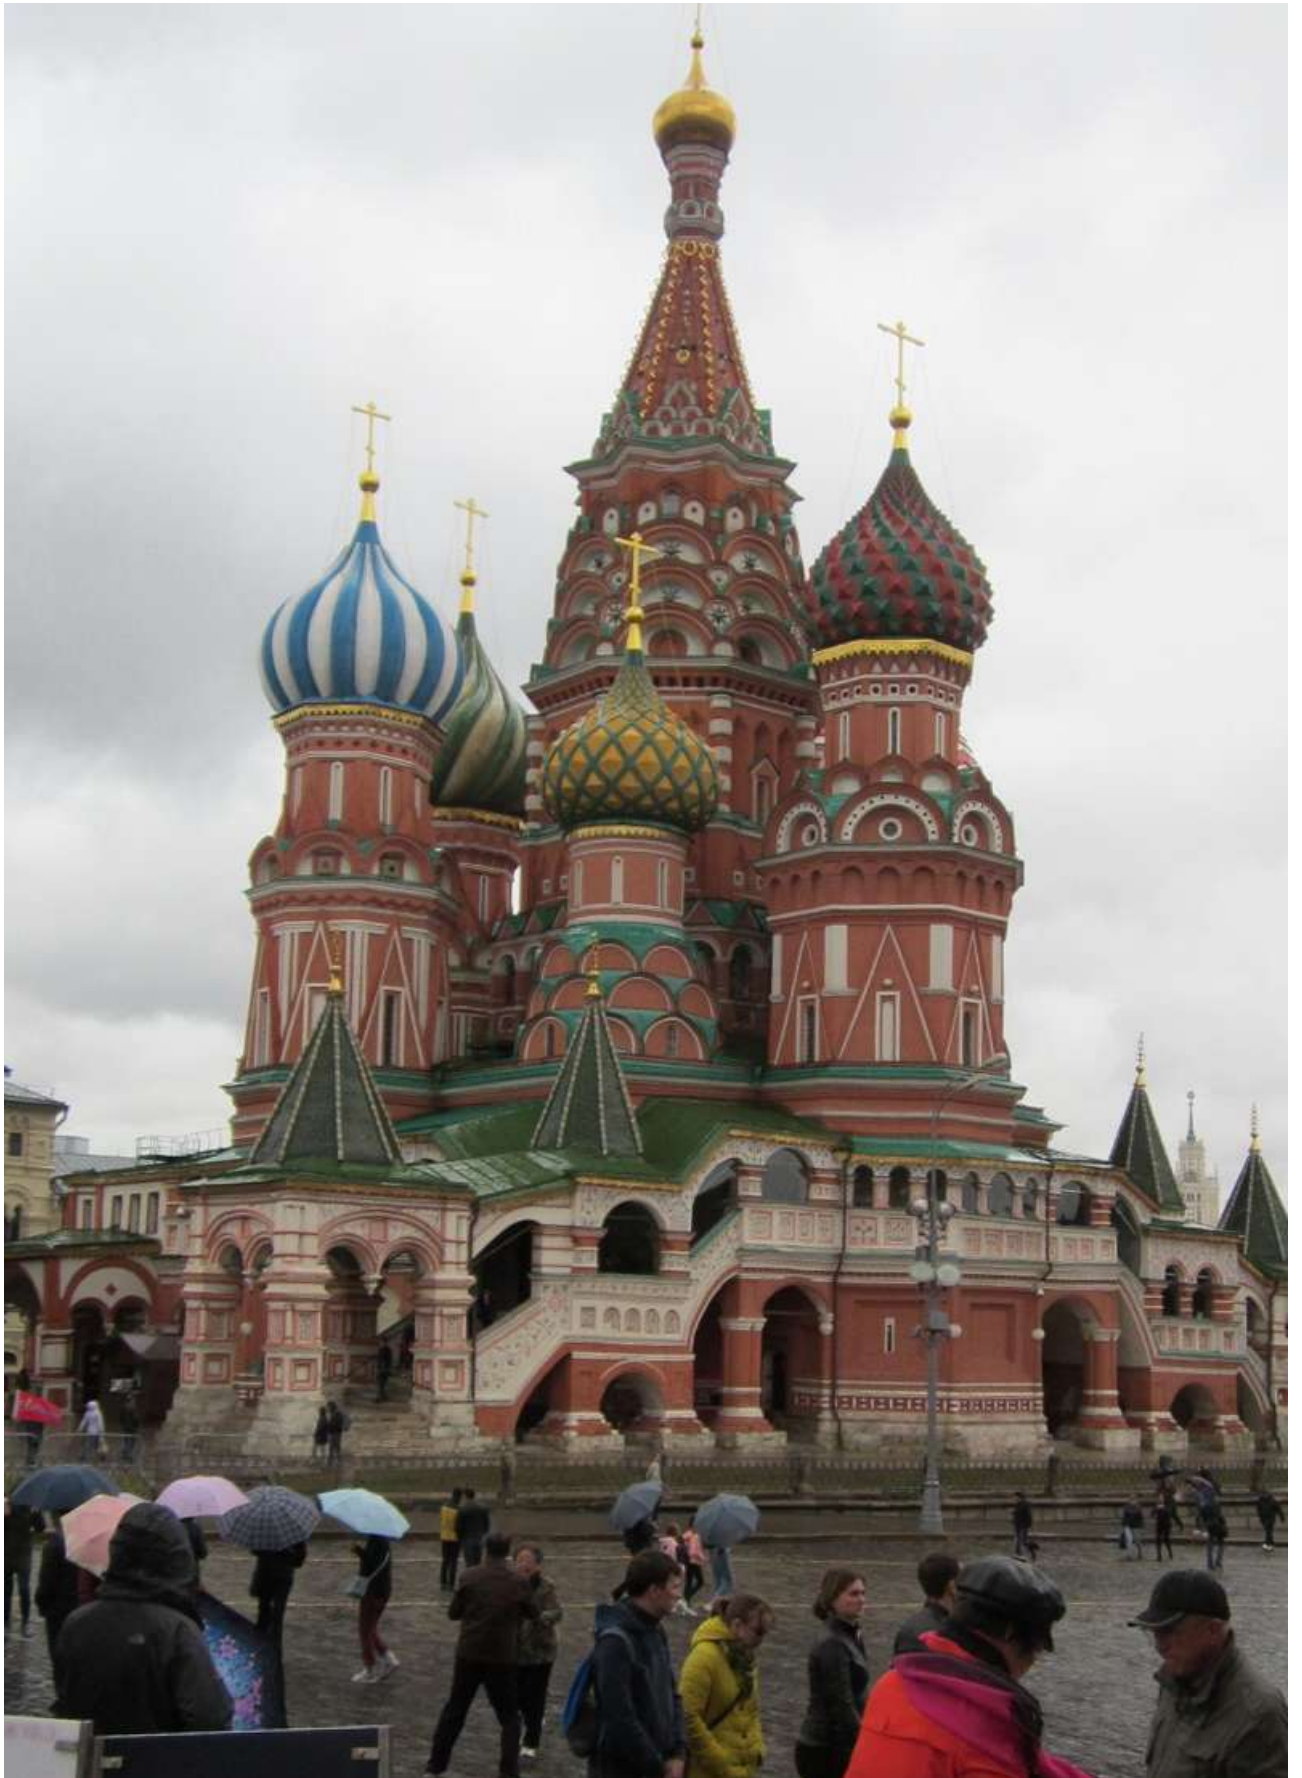

The largest bell but never rung. Was on a wooden stand which caught fire and the bell fell and broke.

Red Square.

On the corner of Red Square. I think Ivan the Terrible was responsible for this.

Mall near Red Square.

Uglich: we had a choir sing for us.

I found this interesting – the down pipes off buildings just run across the foot paths.

A street near our hotel in Moscow.

The Metro.

